

As seen in.....

House Home

The New York Times

PERSONAL SHOPPER

Marianne Rohlich

Cork Mosaic is a welcome change from the usual ceramic tile. These one-inch round cork coins come on 12-by-24-inch sheets, which can be glued to wood or concrete. They can be stained or left in their natural color, and then finished with three coats of water-based polyurethane and standard tile grout. Cork mosaic is $12 a square foot from Habitus, a tile distributor, at 166 East 108th St. (by appointment, 212-426-5500) or www.habitusnyc.com.

.....December 30th, 2004